

COOLIDGE LANDSLIDE GROWING ADMINISTRATION CONTROL OF CONGRESS SEEMS ASSURED

Thirty-Two States, With Electoral Vote of 379, in Line for President

Total May Fall Not Far Short of 400 When Complete Returns Are In.

LAFOLLETTE RUNS THIRD

By United Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Coolidge 379,
Davis 139, LaFollette 13.

With the possible exception of a switch of New Mexico's three votes from Davis to Coolidge this will be the standing of the Presidential candidates in the electoral college when the final tabulations are in.

In New Mexico where the count always is slow the Democrats waged a fight against "Fair play" and the stigma imposed on the former secretary of the interior by the oil scandal, was expected, on the face of returns, to defeat President Coolidge in that State. Of the doubtful consequences Missouri turned definitely into the Coolidge column today after wavering throughout the night, and in Montana, where Senator LaFollette was making a strong bid for electoral votes, the day's tabulations showed steadily increasing margins to President Coolidge.

With the Presidency settled chief interest settled in the complexion of the next Congress. The House is safely in Coolidge's hands with material Republican gains, three of them in Davis' home state of West Virginia.

The Senate, however, is still in doubt.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—President Coolidge has swept the country and, according to returns at an early hour today, has taken with him to Washington a clear working majority in both House and Senate.

The scope of his victory is told in the definite indication that at least 12 states with a total electoral vote of 372 had swung into the Coolidge column, while John W. Davis appeared to have captured but 13 states including Tennessee, for a total electoral vote of 139.

Senator LaFollette had such a lead in Wisconsin on the basis of returns that his home state, 13 electoral votes, seemed safely his.

There remains in doubt Montana, Nevada and New Mexico, a total of 10 electoral votes, all of which appeared likely to go into the Coolidge column.

What was Coolidge's plurality, however, he was unable to prevent the victory of two popular Democratic state executives, Governor Al Smith of New York and Governor Vic Donahey of Ohio. Coolidge failed to measure up to Warren Harding's landslide in New York four years ago but it was a tremendous victory everywhere in the entire state and that Smith should be returned by a nearly 100,000 majority, despite its testimony to the latter's popularity.

Donahey's re-election, despite the Coolidge sweep in Ohio, was less impressive but equally striking.

In states where Democrats or Independents sought to make the Klux Klan an issue they were beaten with apparently but one exception.

Texas, according to late returns, has elected "Ma" Ferguson governor. She made her campaign against the Klan.

J. N. LANCASTER IS FOUND DEAD IN BANNING MINE

The dead body of James N. Lancaster of Jacobs Creek was found in the Banning No. 1 mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at Jacobs Creek Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock. The cause of his death is unknown, as no body bruises could be found. Lancaster, who was 45 years of age, was employed as a driver and was unharmed. He made his home with his mother, Mrs. Mary Lancaster, who is the only survivor.

Lancaster had gone to his work at 6 o'clock, as he always did, and at 7:30 o'clock, Cyrus Forsyth, another employee of the coal company, found the body. It is believed that he had fallen there but fell an hour. According to his mother, he had not enjoyed the best of health lately.

The body was removed to the funeral establishment of Ira Blair of Perryopolis and was taken there this afternoon to the home at Jacobs Creek. Funeral services will be held at the home Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made in Huffman's Cemetery near Smithton.

Greensburg School Issue Wins
GREENSBURG, Nov. 5.—Greensburg's school bond issue of $200,000 was carried by a margin of 133 votes.

JOHN DAVIS HAS SLICE REMOVED FROM YOGAL CORD

John Davis, well-known tenor singer at the city, is giving his voice a prolonged rest following a delicate operation in a Philadelphia hospital in which a narrow part of a vocal cord was removed.

A growth on the cord had affected Mr. Davis' voice to the extent that it had lost its once sweet quality.

It will be several months, probably, before Mr. Davis will resume singing.

150 AUTOMOBILES NEEDED FOR TRIP TO MONESSEN GAME

Already 60 Owners Have Signified Willingness to Take Students There.

WILL ADVERTISE CITY LAFOLLETTE MORE ACTIVE

Next Saturday afternoon Connellsville people will put on a demonstration the like of which has never been seen here. It will be an automobile caravan to Monessen where the Cokers will engage that high school in the annual clash. Plans at present call for the transportation of all the High School seniors who desire to go, and J. W. McClaren, heading the committee in charge of securing automobiles, says no less than 150 machines will be needed. When the "transport train" moves off it is expected it will consist of over that number.

To make this affair, which will advertise Connellsville throughout the western end of the State, one of the biggest events in history of either the city or High School football, a call has been sounded to the people of the community to fall in line and help get it across.

Every automobile owner is asked to call J. W. McClaren at the Crawford Motor Company if he will drive to the Mon River town. Every seat that can be allotted to a student will be appreciated.

Today and tomorrow tickets for the game will be sold at the High School. The names of all making purchases will be taken. These will be assigned to the various automobiles. After tomorrow evening no further tickets will be sold and the committee of Rotary boys and Elks, back of the whole thing, continues on page three.

BLOCS AND GROUPS IN CONGRESS WILL REVIVE DEMANDS

For Passage of Their Measures
During Short Session Convening in December.

By DAVID LAWRENCE Copyright, 1924, by The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—What America faces after election differs materially from what has appeared in the surface during the campaign. It is the wisdom of political strategy to suppress to gloss over, to subordinate and even to ignore anything that might affect the fortunes of the campaign. But there are certain facts inescapable which will rise to perplex the new administration and Congress almost immediately.

First, the demand of the west for constructive farm legislation will reach its climax this winter. Western senators and representatives have been telling their constituents in this campaign that they will do something at last in the way of farm relief. High prices for farm products have given these members temporarily a lease of life but the bloc system in Congress will be intensified and group voting increased, unless by legislation coordinating the farmers' export cooperative movement or by an export corporation with government supervision some scientific method of handling the surplus of American farms is established.

Second, the demand for a downward revision of the tariff is rising to proportions at which the Republican majority were surprised during the campaign. Some tariff tinkering will undoubtedly be brought about by a coalition of the Democrats and western Republicans.

Third, the leadership of the Republican party in the Senate may be vested more effectively than heretofore in a steering committee owing to the ill-health of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, indeed if it does mean his resignation from the position of leader altogether. LaFollette, leadership of the insurgent movement.

Fourth, publication of income tax returns of corporations and individuals will lead almost immediately to activity on part of congressional committees to obtain from the President.

Victory Complete In New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 5.—New Jersey was overwhelmingly Republican. Complete returns show that even Warren county went Republican—the first time in 50 years. The vote showed: Coolidge, 167,047; Davis, 98,625; LaFollette, 31,955.

The Republicans elected 10 congressmen and the Democrats two. Of the latter one was a woman, Mrs. Mary Norton of the Twelfth District, Hudson county.

Wave Which Carried Chief Executive to Victory Rolls In Members of House, Senate

$90,000 Loss Results From Addison Fire

Loss, estimated at between $80,000 and $90,000, and an ugly scar that mars the beauty of the little National Pike town of Addison resulted Tuesday from a disastrous fire which completely destroyed a garage, a blacksmith shop and two dwellings.

The famous, originating about 1:15 o'clock in the afternoon on the second floor of the garage, burned unchecked for two hours.

Addison is located about 24 miles east of Uniontown on the pike.

The Old Trails Garage, a three-story brick structure, was the first building to go. The fire started there. Unable to check it, the owner removed automobiles which were stored on the ground floor.

The blacksmith shop of Joseph Null went next and then the fire spread to his residence. Consuming this, the home of O. D. Nicklow was next in line. It also was reduced to ashes. Just east of the Nicklow residence another house was covered with wet blankets, which were kept soaked by a bucket brigade. In this manner the progress of the fire was stopped. Otherwise it might have consumed the entire side of the village.

The Rush Hotel, next to the garage on the west side, escaped destruction. It is a brick structure and successfully withstood the heat.

Fire departments from Uniontown and Meyersdale were summoned and used their chemicals without much success. The Uniontown pumper was put in action, drawing water from wells. Two of these were pumped dry in a very few minutes by the mighty gusher and the flames burned unchecked.

Furniture was removed from all the homes burned and piled up along the pike. Occupants of the houses were assisted by the populace in removing household goods when it was seen the fire could not be stopped. Traffic was tied up on the pike for about an hour.

SMITH HOLDS 100,000 LEAD OVER TEDDY

By United Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Bearing up under a landslide of Republican votes in the entire state, Governor Alfred E. Smith demonstrated his popularity when he was returned to the governorship by a majority of approximately 100,000, only to see the rest of his running mates, including the lieutenant governor, go down to defeat.

Smith is the only man ever to have been elected governor three times in the state.

As the result of the election New York state will join with others in placing a woman in a major office. Mrs. Florence E. Knapp of Syracuse apparently has been elected to the office of Secretary of State.

Another woman, Mrs. F. R. Draves, was elected to the assembly, being the third of her sex to sit in the legislative body.

Discharged From Hospital.
James Murfin of Leisensville No. 1, who underwent an operation at Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, has been discharged and is at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murfin, of New Kensington.

G. O. P. WINS IN BULLSKIN FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

Two Democratic strongholds slipped for the first time in their history yesterday, giving Republican majorities. These districts were Bullskin Township No. 1 and Dunbar Township No. 6. Their capitulation was overshadowed the last word regarding the attitude of the people as to a change in administration, proving their belief the country is secure in the hands of President Coolidge and that the present is no time to experiment by making any change.

In Bullskin No. 1 the Coolidge vote was 147 and that for Davis 110, giving the Republican candidate a comfortable margin. LaFollette registered 17 votes.

The same trend was true in Dunbar Township No. 6, although the figures were not secured.

LaFollette Balance of Power in Danger of Being Entirely Dissipated.

BREAK IN SOLID SOUTH

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A Coolidge wave promised to roll into office today an out and out administration Republican majority of both houses of Congress—a thing unexpected by the most optimistic Republicans. The Chief Executive, with his mounting majority, apparently pulled over a dozen Democratic chairs in the House and handed them to his own Republicans.

In the Senate two Democratic seats were apparently lost and three more rocked near destruction.

If the candidates leading at 8 A. M. by slender majorities win the Republicans will be able to control the LaFollette balance of power in both houses at the next session. This means Mr. Coolidge may be able to put through his administrative and legislative plans over all opposition and that he will not suffer a Congress as unruly as the present one, which ditched his favorite measures and replaced them with their own.

At 8 A. M. the Democrats had won 10 Senate seats they held in southern states. They had apparently lost two they formerly held in Kentucky and Oklahoma—normally Democratic states. There W. B. Pinn and Fred M. Sackett, Republicans, were apparently so far ahead of their opponents that they might be considered safe.

On the other hand the Republicans had won 14 states they formerly held and two more the Democrats gave them.

Latest returns from Massachusetts show that his friend, Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, was forging ahead of Senator David L. Walsh, Democrat, who was trailing by some 5,000 votes in Colorado both Democratic candidates were slightly behind. If the two Republicans, Senator Shipps and R. W. Means maintain their majority the Republicans will take a seat there. In Montana Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, was seeking with his Republican opponent and it was impossible to forecast the outcome. The odds were even.

Only in New Mexico were the chances against the President. There Senator H. O. Burton, Republican incumbent, was trailing behind his Democratic opponent, but only a few scattered precincts had been heard from.

KENDALL RUNNING WITH COOLIDGE IN SOMERSET COUNTY

SOMERSET, Nov. 5.—Complete returns are not yet available from Somerset county. Tips from scattering districts show that S. A. Kendall for Congress is keeping pace with Coolidge, who received a record-breaking vote, giving him a large majority among the Prouty Sons.

Like Finnegan, Fayette Hunters Are "On Again"

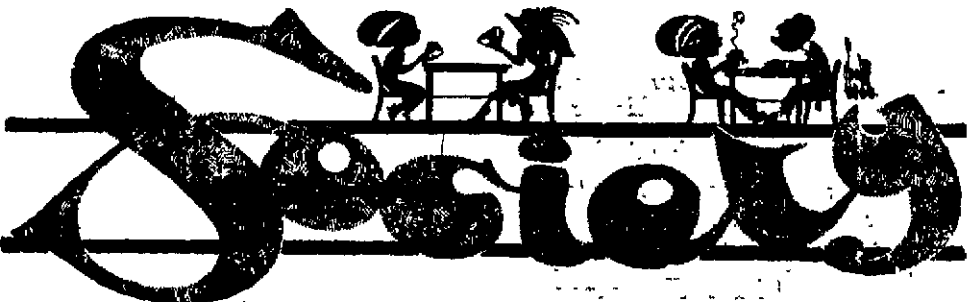

After an announcement yesterday by Forester V. M. Beaser of Ligonier that Fayette county was closed to hunting—positively closed—until rain should fall, an order came last night from Mr. Beaser throwing the county wide open.

Whether the forestry service has lost control of the situation or whether the governor had changed his mind regarding the time the ban should remain was not made known.

Musicians Entertain At Kiwanis Dinner

Mrs. Flora Vare In State Senate: Is First Woman

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—As a result a continue to pick-up here today it was indicated that President Coolidge would carry the state by more than 300,000. In 5,687 complete districts out of 8,109 in the state, the vote stood: Coolidge 1,923,184, Davis 286,057, La Follette 138,973.

The Republican also elected every one of the 35 congressmen in the state, according to claims of the Republican State Committee. It was indicated however, that complete returns may show the election of Everett Kent, Democrat, in the Carbon, Monroe and Northampton district at least, and possibly one or two other Democratic congressmen will win on complete returns.

Among the state senators elected in Mrs. Flora Vare of the First District, Philadelphia, the first woman in the state to be elected to the Senate. Carried along with the tide, the state offices of auditor general and state treasurer were won by the Republican candidates, Samuel S. Mr. and Mrs. William Byrd Dickinson request the pleasure of your company at a Ma Jong Party to be held Thursday, February 28, 1924 at their residence, 792 Elwood Avenue. R. S. V. P.

If your morning mail contained an engraved invitation of this kind, would you be able to accept? Or would you be obliged to send your regrets because you do not know how to play the popular Chinese Game?

MA JONG

Invitations such as are shown above are being sent out daily. Ma Jong parties are quite the thing these days, when the Chinese game has taken the place of Bridge and other card games. Everywhere in thousands of homes in our city, people of all ages gather about tables and heartily enjoy the new, old game.

You, Too, Can Enjoy It

for it is no longer necessary to spend several dollars for a game. We are offering it at 50c and you can learn to play with it just as well as if you spent many times more than that. You can learn from the book of directions which is included with the game, so that when you are invited to a party you will be able to accept and be a lively contender for first prize.

Furthermore, you will be fascinated with the game 144 Tiles in Three Colors right from the start and will be giving the folks at home 100 Wooden Counters many very pleasant evenings and the Ma Jong Coupon (printed elsewhere).

The Greatest Bargain I Ever Heard of

is the comment of nearly everyone who comes into the office for the game. These people seek sets for various reasons; but as all are good ones, we print some of them here:

"I want to learn how to play."
"I want to entertain in a new way."
"I just wanted to understand the talk in our sewing circle."

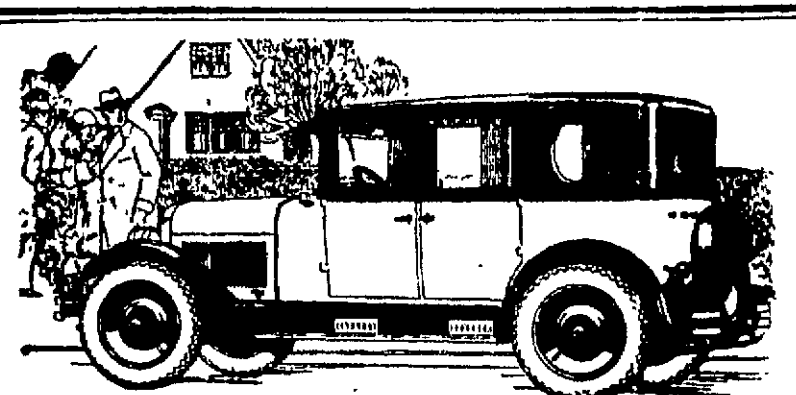

"I like to keep up with other people."
"I want a game to keep my folks home evenings."
"I'm having three tables of Ma Jong and can't afford the expensive sets."
"I'll spend half a dollar anytime to satisfy my curiosity."
"Everybody's doing it, so I want to do it, too."

Our Supply Is Becoming Exhausted

In contracting for an unusually large number of the games, we felt we had gauged the local demand but we evidently were mistaken. The interest in the game and the desire for a popular-priced set were much greater than we anticipated. The result is that our supply is diminishing rapidly and, as we are not sure we will be able to get more of them at the advantageous rate of the first lot, we urge you to use the coupon at once.

Dunbar Township Gridders Want to Win All Remaining Games; Even Break Desired

Necessary to Take Last Three Contests to Equal Season's Losses.

COCKERS ARE INCLUDED

Anxious to close the season above the 50-50 mark, the Dunbar Township High School grid team will stress its ability to the utmost in its next three games. With four defeats chalked up against two victories, it will be necessary for the eleven to win the remaining three on the schedule.

The township contingent will close its home season Saturday afternoon with North Union. The visitors cannot be treated lightly as they have made good showings against all of their opponents.

The starting crew will find itself confronted by one of the strongest attacks ever put on the gridiron. The backfield combination, Zuka, Rusniko, Smith and Sweeney, is reputed to be one of the best in the county. Zuka is a line smasher, can kick and pass, besides being a daring and accurate tackler. Rusniko and Smith are fast for long and runs, with the former doing the burden of punting and passing. Rusniko is a good line plunger. Sweeney, although underweight, is one of the best quarterbacks in Scholastic circles.

The township boasts of the best line in the county. The offensive and defensive work has been remarkable.

One of the largest crowds of the year is expected to turn out to the game as the Cockers are playing at Monessen. This will be the only game of interest in the Young district. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Other games on the schedule are German Township High and Connelville High. The last clash is on Thanksgiving Day.

150 AUTOMOBILES NEEDED FOR TRIP TO MONESSEN GAME

will devote its entire energy to securing automobiles for the journey. Attention of owners is called to the fact that the new road to Vanderbilt, overlooking the "S" curve, is to be thrown open on November 7. This will give a fine traveling surface all the way.

A canvass yesterday indicated that 50 teachers are desirous of making the trip and Mr. McClaren points out that this will insure the safety of the youngsters at the game. The local contingent will be kept in one body, Monessen reserving an entire side of the field for the Cockers.

Reports last night showed 60 automobiles had already been secured for the caravan. Just about another hundred is desired and volunteers are wanted. One or two business firms have donated a truck for the journey, the machines being equipped with seats.

Some idea of the monster parade the caravan will make is given by the estimate of one man who figured that when the last car leaves the High School building the leading machine will be a little over two miles on the road to Monessen.

It is pointed out that cars already loaded are wanted in the "train" even though they may not be a seat for a student. Transportation of the students and a demonstration of Connelville spirit are hand in hand in the project. Every car added to the long strux is considered just another boost for this community in the biggest traveling advertisement ever arranged.

The announcement concerning the transportation offer was made in High School yesterday morning and was enthusiastically received. The Cockers will not know they are away from home as far as a cheering squad is concerned.

The enthusiasm of "Parade Marshal" McClaren, who has voluntarily aligned himself with the monster demonstration, is infectious. Some men who own two machines say they may use them both if he can get a dependable driver. These offers he is accepting as he has numbers of names of persons who are capable.

Every student who has a car in the family is urged to try and arrange to go to the game in it—filling it, if possible, with other students. Those students who have their own means of being transported will so notify the school authorities when they purchase their tickets and in this way only those without cars will be taken care of. Right now is the opportunity for a whole lot of men to do something for their community and its school—the biggest institution in the city—with one effort. It is pointed out that these persons are asked not to wait until they have been solicited for their machines as that makes the work of the committee unnecessarily heavy, but to call Mr. McClaren and ask to be "enrolled" as a booster.

It is very likely that the Elks Band will be along. A number of the musicians have expressed the desire to go. They are becoming very much interested in the school and its team. All in all it will be the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted by the city as a whole and the committee in charge is offering everyone a chance to participate.

The caravan will probably start to move off by 12:30 o'clock from the High School. The leader will be selected with care so that the journey will not be a race. The only rules applied to these in line are that they hold their place.

In order to be of assistance to any who may break down Mr. McClaren will drive his service truck himself, and have with him a good mechanic. This machine will serve as a "first aid" truck.

The Cockers got down to hard work yesterday afternoon and will give their best efforts against the Black and White aggregation in the coming game. Monessen has won one game and the locals have tied one. The contest should be a good one to watch.

ED GARBISCH FIVE

TIMES TEAM LEADER

Army Football Captain Is Winner of Many Honors.

Five captivities during his career as an athlete in high school, college, and the United States military academy, West Point, is the brilliant record that has been achieved by Cadet Edgar W. Garbisch.

Attracting attention while a student in Washington (Pa.) high school, where he won his first captaincy as leader of the gridiron squad, Cadet Garbisch developed rapidly when he entered Washington and Jefferson college and was elected captain of the varsity gridiron squad as a junior, an unusual honor at the institution. He also was due of the "aces" of the varsity tennis squad and served as its captain during one season.

While he starred as a guard at Washington and Jefferson, Cadet Garbisch was transferred to center at West Point and in 1922 was the almost unanimous choice for all-American center. His play on the Army eleven has been so good that he was chosen captain of the varsity squad last fall owing the Army-Navy game, and spring he was also elected captain of the tennis squad. He is one of the West Point cadets in recent years who has won high honors in several sports. Garbisch has also won high honors as a student at West Point, only he was elected captain of the battalion of the school, a position which is secured on the basis of scholarship, leadership and popularity. In connection with the Fourth of July tradition at West Point, exercises are held by the traditions of years, has been a custom to award the cadet of orator to the student making highest scholastic standing. This also was won by Garbisch.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

REPUBLICANS EASY VICTORS AT VANDERBILT

Only in Legislative Race Is There Semblance of Close Contest.

KLAN SUPPORT - WEAK

Henderson, Cochran, McFee Are Local Favorites in Assembly Hunt. Many Split Tickets LaFollette "Biggest Threat." Finishes in Third Place.

Special to The Courier.
VANDERBILT, Nov. 5.—Once more the Republicans hold sway in this town, the final election returns show. Of the total 289 votes cast, the Republicans received 118, Democrats 70, and Labor 36. Coolidge and his followers received 101 straight tickets and were given 17 additional ones of the 112 split votes.

LaFollette, the supposedly big threat in the Young Valley, was a poor third. The Klan gave little support to National. It has been said that more than 200 Klansmen reside in the town, while the American candidate received but 23 votes. Davis finished second, much to the surprise of the town's leading politicians, who looked for the Labor party to take that place.

Harry Cochran of Dawson was given a hand, 111 votes being cast for him and R. J. McFee of Danbar, while J. B. Henderson, formerly a local resident, received 124. The trio are the local favorites, before and after the election.

Some did not vote on the tuberculosis hospital and constitutional convention issues.

For the county hospital the vote was: Yes, 196; no, 31.

The voting was conducted in the Vanderbilt Athletic Club rooms and the poll was in charge of Harry Snyder, Miss Grace Moore, Bert S. Means, Eli Clinton and Clarence Miller.

One hundred eighteen votes were cast against the constitutional convention, to 23 for it.

Big Margins for All Republicans In City's Wards

In Conneltsville, as elsewhere, the Republican ticket made a sweeping victory in nearly every instance, with the exception of Assembly and Congress. Even in these contests the Republican candidates had secure margins.

President Coolidge piled up a total vote of 1,879 in the city's seven wards. It compared with 308 for Davis and 794 for LaFollette. In most wards LaFollette led by a slim margin but the Third, which gave Davis a good plurality over the Independent candidate, enabled the Democratic nominee to finish second in the city.

President Coolidge ran ahead of the opposition in every ward. Samuel S. Lewis had little trouble in outdistancing Ermentrout and Colonel Edward Martin easily swept everything from John R. Collins. In like manner Frank M. Trexler went ahead in the voting for judge of superior court.

Congressman Samuel A. Kendall carried every ward in the city. The closest vote was in the Third where 319 for him was followed closely with 307 for Boyd. W. M. Likins, American Party candidate, got 134 votes—all told.

The Republican Assembly candidates, Joseph B. Henderson, J. McDougal and J. K. Bush, all maintained safe leads here. Harry Cochran, Democrat, ran ahead of both McGee and Howard, his mates.

The county hospital got a big boost. The vote in all wards but the Fifth was 1,255 for and 624 against. In the Fifth only the affirmative votes were counted, it was said. There were 354 in favor of it. It was explained the negative vote was arrived at by deducting 354 from the total vote of 708 cast. This would make 348 against the issue, but it is hardly likely, in many opinions, that everyone else voted against it. Along the same plan the vote on the constitutional convention was arrived at. There were 107 affirmative votes, the deduction from the total making 595 against it.

In the First Ward a total of 480 ballots was cast, of which 208 were straight Republican, 67 straight Democratic and 168 split, with a scattering of others, among which were 15 Labor and 11 American.

In the Second Ward the count showed a total of 448 of which 143 were straight Republican, 58 straight Democratic and 211 split.

The Third piled up a total of 778 votes, of which 275 were Republican straight and 211 straight Democratic. The remainder were split, the board announced.

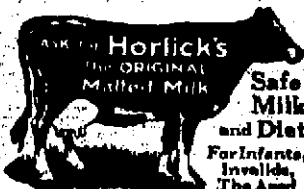

Four hundred sixty-two votes were cast in the Fourth. Of this number 280 were straight Republican, 108 Democratic, 30 Labor and 123 split.

In the Fifth a total of 702 votes were cast. This included 320 straight Republican, 95 straight Democratic, 17 Labor, eight Socialist, four American, two Prohibition and 252 split.

NO TROUBLE WHEN BABY CAME

Mrs. Crossan Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Dakan Also Tells What This Medicine Does

St. Joseph, Missouri.—"I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I decided to try it at I had had such a hard time with my first child. I took nine bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I never felt better in my life than the day my baby girl was born. I will be glad to tell what it will do, to any woman who will let me know her address."—Mrs. ROSA DAKAN, 2227 S. 11th St., St. Joseph, Missouri.

Back To Normal Health

New Orleans, Louisiana.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while I was carrying my child and I must praise it highly because I never suffered one day during that time and could do all my housework and had a very easy confinement. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound because I have a weakness due to working around the house too soon after my baby was born. But thanks again to the Vegetable Compound I am getting back to normal health once more. I advise any woman to take it."—Mrs. A. MARY, JR., 2019 Toussaint St., New Orleans, Louisiana.

Not A Bit of Trouble

Wilmington, Delaware.—"I was nervous and weak and not at all regular. I worked in a factory at the time and could not work very much."

I was sick over a year, then a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I started to pick up as soon as I began taking it. Then I took it again before my first baby was born and I never had a bit of trouble. I recommend it highly."—Mrs. JANE CROSSAN, 612 Pine St., Wilmington, Delaware.

Consider the statements of these women. They give you the benefit of their actual experience with the Vegetable Compound.

blocs and Groups In Congress Will Revive Demands

In accordance with the law, all details of the income tax returns themselves. The cry will be for a correction of inequities but the radicals in Congress mean by that always a shifting of the tax burden to those of larger incomes.

Fifth, the task of President Coolidge from now on will be one of keeping the brakes on Congress through the use and threatened use of the veto power. In the short session of Congress beginning in December and continuing to March 4, the administration leaders will be kept busy side-tracking all sorts of proposals from the radicals. The side-tracking process will in the main work to the advantage of the Administration because appropriation bills will have the right of way though the usual effort to delay necessary bills to as to force an extra session will probably be made.

If the Congress elected this week is strongly conservative, and gives the Administration a substantial majority in the House and a wider margin than heretofore in the Senate, the radicals will try to get everything they propose passed this session and not wait for an extra session to be called in which they might be at a disadvantage.

Sixth, the fight of the railroad brotherhoods for the passage of the Howell-Barkley bill legalizing certain standards and working rules which they consider paramount will be renewed, and the friends of the measure will take their stand behind the farm senators who want repealed or amended the famous provision of the Transportation Act which permits the railroads to earn a certain percentage on their valuation. Western senators interested in securing lower freight rates will make another drive at the Transportation Act, and the Administration leaders will be kept busy holding the fort against parliamentary incursions.

On the whole the outlook for business, as it relates to the activities of Congress, can be said to be fair. A short session of Congress permits of little mischief as a rule, and the Congress elected this week will not meet until 12 months hence. December, 1925, unless the President is compelled by circumstances to call an extra session.

Between now and December of this year will be the reflective period for Congress. The results of the election will be carefully analyzed. The third party movement in 1912 found utter discouragement in examining the election returns for the period conclusively that all that had been accomplished was a mathematical split in the Republican vote allowing a minority to win the election. What the La Follette movement, as well as the Democrats, will find upon mature study of the returns is that the Democratic party has been split and hat the third party and Democrats together just about match the Republican strength from which the lesson must be drawn that separate existence of the Democrats and the La Follette groups can only mean the continued triumph of the Republican conservatives.

When this is fully understood it will mean a closer coalition than heretofore between the Democrats and western insurgents in the coming session of Congress not necessarily in the hope of winning the senators and representatives themselves to one party standard—for they usually retain their Republican affiliation—but with the idea of winning the constituents who support those western Republicans.

The protest movement developed in his campaign will hardly be ignored and the probabilities are that the Republican conservatives will divide among themselves as to the wisdom of meeting their western colleagues half way in an effort to prevent a break-off from Republican status to the ranks of the radicals in the congressional elections of 1928, the winning of which will mean much to any Republican legislative program and possibly will affect the elections of 1928.

Careful Driver Clubs Latest Safety Program Of the Baltimore & Ohio

Careful Drivers' clubs are being organized among employees and officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as another step in the company's activities looking to the prevention of crossing accidents. Ten thousand applications for membership in the clubs, which are forming in communities throughout territory adjacent to the lines of the railroad, have been received.

Membership in the clubs carries with it the promise that applicants will drive carefully at all times and stop before crossing railroad tracks so as to be sure that the way is clear. To each member is given an enamel tag bearing the legend "This Car Stops at All Railroad Crossings." This, the club member agrees to attach to the rear of his motor vehicle. The tag will not only be a reminder to Baltimore & Ohio employees who may drive automobiles but will also serve as an added warning to other drivers who observe the unique inscription.

As a further warning at night to motorists the Baltimore & Ohio is installing flashlight signals at those crossings where extra precaution seems necessary. Two lamps equipped with red lenses about 24 inches apart flash alternately when a train is approaching giving the distinct warning of danger. In many states signs have been placed on the highways incited 500 feet from either side of crossing notifying motorists that they are approaching railroad crossings.

Of the total of 18,000 persons who died in the United States from motor vehicle accidents of all kinds during the year 1923, it is estimated that 11 per cent resulted from accidents at railroad crossings in the whole country. Many of the railroads among them the Baltimore & Ohio are constantly striving in various ways to reduce the number of this class of automobile accidents.

Five years ago the Baltimore & Ohio started a systematic observation at all grade crossings in order to check up on the manner in which drivers of motor vehicles approached and crossed the tracks. Through noting the House number of an automobile whose operator failed to heed the customary warning of "Stop Look and Listen," the railroad's safety department was enabled to send a card to the owner of the machine.

chize, exhibiting cooperation in avoiding accidents at highway crossings. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has made 216,448 observations in that time and of this number 119,744 drivers, or 55.3 per cent failed to take the necessary precautions at crossings.

For the past three years during June, July, August and September, the months of heaviest automobile traffic, the railroads have conducted intensive "Careful Crossings" campaigns to educate owners and drivers of vehicles of all kinds in the importance and necessity of carefulness at all crossings. Large placards in conspicuous places along the highways and cities bore the warning "Cross Crossings Cautiously." Safety officials have been gratified at the results of these campaigns and encouraged to even more intensive activities. The Careful Drivers' clubs are now being established with this in mind.

The Paramount

"THE RECKLESS AGE," in which Reginald Denny is seen in one of the best roles of his screen career, is on view today and tomorrow at the Paramount.

It is a mad, joyous whirl of high society excitement—and the redoubtable Denny mingles comedy and thrills in a remarkably swift moving story with a little of everything Denny is famous for. He stages a fight as thrilling as any in "The Leather Pushers."

The story is an adaptation of Earl Derr Biggers' Saturday Evening Post story "Love Insurance," and Denny, as an insurance "trouble shooter," is assigned to the strenuous task of watching over the romance of a nobleman who has taken out a policy against failure to marry an heiress. A blackmail plot, a necklace theft, a threatened breach of promise suit and comical complications—and to cap it all he falls in love with the girl himself. How he extricates himself from his tangled web makes one of the liveliest comedies in years, but still crammed with such thrills as the battle, a daring automobile drive and other adventures.

The cast is specially well chosen. Ruth Dwyer is a very charming heiress, and William Austin convincing as the English nobleman. Hayden Stevenson, who played the fight manager in "The Leather Pushers," appears as a high-power advertising specialist getting many laughs by his clever handling of the role. May Wallace, John Stepping, Fred Malatesta, Tom McGuire and other standard players are adequately cast.

Friday and Saturday Buffalo Bill Jr. will be seen in "Rarin' to Go."

The Soisson

"THE LOVE MASTER"—Featuring Strongheart, the wonder dog of the movies, is the feature picture today at the Soisson.

It is a splendid comedy, and yet there is a heart appeal in it that cannot be escaped. Incidentally Lulu Jule, a splendidly tanned colored police dog, who plays the part of the "London," is the first dog who has been on the screen who can compete with Strongheart in sheer ability to portray emotions. In fact, Strongheart seems to encourage competition, for in the closing reels there are five of the finest puppies that were ever born, and each one of them seems to take naturally to aid in telling a love story.

The story concerns itself with a young man who has chosen refuge in the north at a trailing post, which is reigned over by the young niece of the two men who own the general store. Nothing much is known about him except that he is in dire need of money for some purpose, and the first prize in the annual dog race seems to be the one best way of getting it. The dog race is one of the most thrilling spectacles which has found its way to the screen, but in "The Love Master" it is but an incident in the development of a splendid dramatic story.

John Barrymore will be seen in "Beau Brummel" on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The Orpheum

"THE BEDROOM WINDOW"—Showing today at the Orpheum is a Paramount picture and is an original screen story by Clara Beranger.

WHITE MAN

GEORGE A. NEW CHAMBERLAIN
MAKER OF FINE THINGS STAINED GLASS, JOHN BOGARDUS, ETC.
THE BOSS-MEYER COMPANY

Andrea could not resist a single shot. "Yes," she said demurely, "just for a change I'll go and have my tea—and bath—alone!"

Trevor ignored the hit. "Good girl," he said, his attention already swerving to his morning guests.

"And you won't tell me who they are?" asked Andrea. "Or don't you know?"

He fixed her with a meaning stare. "Certainly I know," he said, "for I went for them at considerable expense and trouble. Also I may as well tell you now that one of them at least is a priest of the Church of England."

A flame of color stained Andrea's cheeks and her eyes went suddenly wide. Things were moving and only by a tremendous effort did she catch up with them. "Great expense," she murmured. "Something under three pounds, I suppose."

Undoubtedly a hit but also ignored by Trevor, whose mind was latent on far more weighty affairs. He shrugged his shoulders and pointed to her but with his chin, an expressive but most reprehensible adoption of his wife's habit. She took the hint, nevertheless, and as she started he said, "Please remember, please don't show yourself this time, will you?" The tone of his voice was a great improvement on all that had gone before. She threw him a smile over her shoulder and proceeded to cross her but on exaggerated tips.

Trevor did not bother to awake his guests; he went straight to his room stood with her feet slightly straddled, her hands stuffed in the side pockets of her khaki jacket—a pose often assumed by professional fighters. He glanced nervously about her room and deciding that he would feel more at home and perhaps more secure in his own, asked her to precede him there. She consented and upon arrival made naturally for the couch.

"I think," said Trevor hastily, "you had better sit here—for a change." He drew out a straight-backed chair by the table. She cast him an inquiring glance but said nothing without remark.

Trevor did not sit; he puffed up and down before her till she could stand it no longer; then she said brightly, "Now I know how our old cut used to feel, watching the canary swing on his trapdoor."

"Extraordinary inverted coincidence," remarked Trevor. "I feel like the canary."

Both pondered on this rejoinder for some moments; there was something about it that reminded Andrea of "first blood." Finally she realized that it was her turn to speak. "I'll let that go for the present," she said with dignity. "Suppose you say what you've got to say?"

The man stood squarely before her. "All right," he said. For a second he hung on the verge of further speech as though he were counting "one, two, three—go," then he plunged: "Will you marry me?"

Here was a game that Andrea knew from its infancy to its old age. The first move on its checker board was as fixed as it was easy. "No," she said promptly and automatically and glanced up with a half-bored look that said: "Your turn to play."

That look was destined to die a sudden death. "Thank God!" said Trevor, fervently, "apparently looking into space, but in reality taking in her galvanized start through the corner of one eye. "You see," he continued, "I've come to my senses and begun to get your point of view. It's still true that you asked me to bring you, but it's no less true that you thought you were just going up for a morning breeze, while I knew that once you were in that flying machine it was good-by to a world. If I told you that, of course you wouldn't have come."

"Of course," said Andrea, faintly. Her heart was beating and inside of her its pulse was drumming an old familiar childish refrain of helpless rage. "He didn't play fair! He didn't play you might think yourself compromised to such an extent that even my humble person would prove some sort of an amulet. It's a great relief to know that I overestimated the situation all around."

Andrea realized that the false start had thrown her out of the normal stride of the game and she was ready to clutch at a straw. "Why, I hadn't thought of that—I mean, I'd forgotten it somehow—but I do feel compromised—awfully." She looked hopefully at his set face.

"No need to," said Trevor briefly. "I've got these three missionary chap hats for witnesses to the fact that we went up in perfectly good faith, that I was forced to a bad landing and got fearfully cut up and burned and that I was only just backing out of death's door when they turned up and found you intact."

"Why, White Man!" exclaimed Andrea, "how could you get them to tell that awful lie?"

"Easily," answered Trevor promptly. "They wouldn't know it was a lie. You see, these missionary chap hats will believe a native; they can't afford to concede the immutable fact that a black consistency makes only one constant effort in his life—an effort to give always the answer that he thinks it will please you most to hear. Why, I don't even have to fix it up with my people. You'd believe the lie yourself if you could understand half they will say."

Andrea's lips drooped and she shook her head. "No," she said slowly. "No, I wouldn't." She was sitting with her elbows on the table, her cheek against the back of her clasped hands and her eyes following the white man's nervous movements with a sort of wounded wonder.

"So, you see, we can fix it," he concluded. "These clergymen are the only people in this back country that I could have trusted you with and who will strike just the right funny note in your precious world-of-the-things-that-aren't-done-you-know. I have worked my best for you. I've made them come a hundred miles through country they have always thought impassable."

Andrea sat back and let her hands fall to her lap; for a moment she bowed her head and looked down at them, then she raised her gaze to his face. Her own, while it had been half-hidden, had suddenly lost its look of exuberant youth. It was so pale that her eyes seemed too large for it. They dimmed its outlines.

"White Man," she said, "do you mean it?"

"Mean what?"

"Have seen you kill beasts and men," said Andrea, "but even so, I couldn't have believed it of you." Her voice grew duller, like water running over silted masonry. "I couldn't have believed that you would hurt me so!" She cast her eyes out across the table and dropped her face upon them.
